DETAILED ACTION / REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

This action is in response to an amendment received from the applicant on 1/5/2005, which has been placed in the electronic file of record.

Rejection under 35 USC 112 is rendered moot by the cancellation of all claims that contained indefinite language or used unclear wording. The presentation of a new set of claims in which the limitations have been clearly defined in proper form rectifies this problem.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 7-15 are allowed. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

A number of the limitations of claim 7 can be found by taking a combination of the teachings of Yu (US 6,561,421, of record) and Chao (US 6,773,192). This combination was discussed at some length in the first action. In sum, Yu teaches a USB cylindrical card reader that lacks a pen tip. Chao cures this deficiency by teaching a USB device with a pen tip.

This combination is a simple one to make because the pen tip of Chao is a completely self-contained one that would not need to interface (other than to physically attach) to the card reader of Yu.

What is lacking, in the examiner's view and upon reconsideration, is "a clip rotatably attached to a first end... and selectively covering the slit." Although Chao teaches (figure 4) a clip that could be incorporated into the card reader of Yu, the examiner observes that this clip is different in that (a) there is not reason to believe that the clip is rotatable in the manner claimed, and (b) even if the clip of Chao were rotatable, it does not appear that it would make a good cover for a card slit. It appears rather narrow, and also, as can be seen in the view of figure 4, there is a considerable gap between the clip and the pen cylinder. Thus, it would not protect the inner circuitry of the card reader much from dirt and other contaminants.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Wang et al. (US PG Pub No. 2004/0233629) is very similar to Chao.
